

Dr Elaine Goh Wei Fun is a lecturer in the Old Testament Studies and the Dean of Studies in Seminari Theologi (STM). She earns her Doctor of Theology from South Asia Graduate School of Theology/ATESEA Theological University. Her main area of research is Old Testament studies, in which she has written some books and articles for publications over the past 20 years. She loves to teach and travel, and she loves to spend her leisure time.

Spiritual Formation Institute HLCE Seminar Series 2023

Egypt: Past & Present

A Biblical-Geography Journey

Friday 16 Sept 2023

9am – 12.30pm

Room 11C, Jalan Gertak Merah, 80100 Johor Baru

Registration:

Form <https://forms.gle/uKex2t56LMJ75NxbA>

03285/ Whatsapp: 012 7510623

RM10.00 per person, which include refreshment,

and seminar materials

seats are limited. Book early to avoid disappointment

Egypt was the place of Israelites' slavery in the Old Testament, and it was also the shelter of Jesus at the New Testament time. Today, Egypt houses many gigantic yet mysterious tombs of pharaohs, temples, wall arts, sculptures and relics, giving rise to archaeological studies on Egyptology. These archaeological sites also testify to how God freed His people from the slavery in Egypt. Dr Elaine Goh will explain what we can learn from Egyptian geographical and historical backgrounds—on how God had prepared His redemption for His people, how God had displayed his might over Pharaoh as well as the Egyptian gods, and on how God shaped His people to be godly at Mount Sinai.